
Listen to my Song

Danny Mitchell*¹

¹Independent – Royaume-Uni

Résumé

This documentary film tells the story of Esteban who escaped poverty in the ghetto when he was thirteen, by running away from home and joining the FARC guerrilla movement in Colombia.

With the peace process underway Esteban's life changes when he performs at a Peace Concert and is spotted by a famous Colombian producer. When he is invited to perform in Bogota, a career as a musician is beginning to look possible. However, he must first make his own peace with his past and reconnect with his family in Cali. If this is possible perhaps the country can also move on from its difficult history.

This project has been supported by One World Media, Grasp the Nettle Films and Vixen Films, BAFTA/Sundance winner Kim Longinotto is the Executive Producer.

Mots-Clés: FARC, Colombia, Revolution, Communism, Music

*Intervenant